After all, there's nothing warmer when temperatures plummet and heating bills skyrocket over the gorgeous soft flannel that's almost warm on first touch. Unlike other flannel bedding, we are made from very thick 210 grams per square meter, which is an extremely high quality, produced in Portugal, from mostly extremely long cotton, strong and soft fibers. Just like other flannels, we are combed on both sides for a smooth and processed finish. This is not your average flannelette and is probably the highest quality flannelette on the market in the UK at 210 grams per square metre. Our 100% thick pure cotton flannel has been combed several times to create an extremely soft handle. These plates weighing 210 grams are luxuriously comfortable and warm. The flat plates and pillowcases have a lovely hem and the equipped panels have an extra 15 (38cm) deep side and full elasticity around the bottom for perfect fit. Napguard Flannelette is considered by many to be Rolls Royce's flannelette bedding and it is 190 grams, but our Superior Flannelette from the same original plant in Portugal is 210 grams. This superior flannelette is on both sides, it is a sign of a high quality flannelette and the equipped plates are all the way round the sheet, not just the corners. It is also oversized because flannelette will always shrink over time and especially with the first couple of washes.
